NEW INDUSTRY IS RUNNING FULL BLAST

CAN FACTORY IS TURNING OUT ABOUT 30,000 CANS A DAY FOR THE PINEAPPLE CROP.

Hawaii can now feel independent towards the rest of the world in the matter of the can industry for the American Can Company in its local plant is turning out something over 30,000 cans a day into which the pineapple crop of the islands is speedily disappearing.

While the factory is not running at full blast and is not beginning to turn out anywhere near its full capacity, it presents a very busy scene with the various machines running and the 50 people employed all intent on some different duty as a part of a huge can making plant, amid the din and confusion of the factory.

It is an interesting sight to watch a strip of tin start in at one end of a long route and go through the various machines and come out at the other end a completely finished can ready to receive the fruit which it is to contain.

First the large sheets of tin are cut up into the right sized strips in order to be made into the body of the can. Then these strips are fed into a machine known as the "body" machine, where the strip is rounded and creased together in a cylinder. It then passes on through a carrier and is soldered along the side. Then to the machine where the bottom is applied and clamped on by a machine with almost human intelligence. Then the can rolls along a trough in the bottom of which is a stream of melted solder where the bottom is soldered on.

The can now comes to a machine which is only used by the American Can Company. It is called a wiping machine for as the cans roll through it they are wiped dry of all the unnecessary solder and are turned out clean. By the use of this wiping machine about one-third of the solder is saved and can be used again, a large item where 20,000 cans are soldered each day.

After the can has been made they are tested by a machine to see whether they are air-tight or not. They are clamped onto a machine and submerged into a tub of water and then compressed air is put into the can. If bubbles show then the can is sent back to be resoldered. So fine a point has this machine been reduced to that only one person is required to do the testing, and all that he has to do is to watch for bubbles and turn a lever which causes the can to be thrown out, or if good to be carried to the packers where the finished cans are packed and crated ready for shipment to the pineapple factory.

The factory here is in the charge of Superintendent D. D. Rainey who has been with the American Can Company for a number of years.

"We are not running full blast as yet," said Mr. Rainey this morning, "for we had to hurry very fast to get started at all. We are only turning out 30,000 cans when we should be turning out nearer 60,000 a day. The people we employ are all new at the business, although they do remarkably well, for having had no experience. Next season we shall be doing much better."

"After the company decided to come here and start operations it was one continuous rush from that time until now. We have not our machines all in the right place and we have not had time to get things cleared out of our way in the factory. But next year we will make cans on a large scale and in the way they do on the coast."

THE FOURTH ON KAUAI ISLAND

KEKAHA, WAIMEA AND MAKAWELL ARE TO COMBINE IN A CELEBRATION OF THE DAY.

LIHUE, June 25.—The fact that the residents of Waimea district intended to put all their strength into the effort of making the proposed fair a success made them hesitate to celebrate the birth of our country in the usual lively style. Now that the fair has been postponed they have reconsidered the matter and have collected the respectable sum of more than one hundred dollars in order to defray the expenses of a celebration.

Kekaha, Waimea and Makawell are to combine in having a good time down at Makawell landing where there is plenty of room and where the breezes from the sea cool the enthusiastic celebrator.

There will, as a matter of course, be an exhibition of the national sport and the baseball game is expected to be a good one. The usual number of field sports will come off with prizes as incentives and swimming races and a competing run of the gasoline launches will furnish the aquatic features of the day.

A regular Hawaiian luau will supply refreshment for the many men and the whole district has been drawn on to furnish all the delicacies necessary for the occasion.

A lot of fancy fireworks have been ordered from Honolulu and will be set off at night rendering the last glorious touches to a day full of excitement and joys.—The Garden Island.

A DISTILLERY AT WAILUA KAUAI

IT WAS ILLICIT HOWEVER AND THE POLICE SHUT DOWN ON A NEW MINOR INDUSTRY.

LIHUE, June 25.—The police have had a suspicion for a couple of weeks that there was more booze consumed in the district than they could account for and Captain Gardner, tracing the supply to the outskirts of his district, went over Wailua way to investigate.

Without much trouble he soon located the source and at the same time discovered a still in full operation.

A Japanese who had tired of plantation work was here manufacturing a liquor closely resembling samshu from rice and selling it at a good profit.

The police confiscated the plant and turned the moonshiner over to the tender mercies of Internal Revenue Collector Chamberlain who will instruct him in Uncle Sam's law regarding illicit distilling.—The Garden Island.

FRISCO STOCK EXCHANGE.

The session will begin at 1 o'clock. The building is a spacious structure, and will serve as the temporary home of the exchange during the rebuilding of the business section of the city.

THE LOG OF THE LA PALOMA

Honolulu. Course was S.W. and have been since 5 p. m. last night. Changed course S.W. 8 1/2 S. at 1 p. m.

12 noon 26th. 15th day. Took observations. No land in sight and things commence to look serious as our navigator cannot tell just where we are.

At 2:30 p. m. picked up Molokai off our Port bow so now we know where we are. Blowing very strong trades and heavy seas running and wind abeam.

Stood over for Molokai light as it was impossible to run with the high seas and wind which must have been fully 60 miles an hour. At 7:30 was abeam of Molokai light and about 5 miles from shore then we jibed mainsail over and set our course for Diamond Head light.

At 8:30 passed large island steamer on port side and also at the same time schooner. 8:40 took in foremast on account of not drawing; running too free with mainsail; heavy seas. We set off our signals when off Koko Head and also when light was abeam which was at 11:20 p. m. and there we got an answer from lookout. We continued our course until off the bell buoy and there heave to for the rest of the night and thanks to the Almighty God for our safe trip and that we arrived all right and glad that we are back to dear old Honolulu where we can see some sunshine and we have made the trip in 15 days 11 hours and 20 minutes and covering a distance of 2447 miles from San Pedro to Honolulu and as for the distance the yacht has sailed is as follows:

Honolulu to San Francisco.....2892
San Francisco to San Pedro.....444
San Pedro to Honolulu.....2447

Total.....5783
Taking 2 months and 14 days.
